Objectives

- Identify practical strategies to improve health and end homelessness while decreasing unnecessary health care costs
- Evaluate the impact of permanent supportive housing on homelessness, health, and societal costs of care
- Describe the value of community partnerships among healthcare and social service providers to address vulnerable individuals' health and social needs

Permanent Supportive Housing's Impact

 Reductions in Emergency Department & inpatient ~ 60%

 Increases in preventative care

Maine: 41% decrease in total mental health costs with 35% increase in outpatient mental health services¹

Medicaid savings range from $1,130 to $17,625
per member per year

Housing is a Resource for Health & Health Care

For those Currently Medicaid-Eligible, PSH helps to:

Reduce health care costs

Tenants engage in primary and outpatient care, avoiding high cost of hospital-based and long term care (emergency rooms, inpatient care & nursing homes)

Promote healthy behaviors

Tenants self-manage: eat better and more regularly, take medication, reduce risky behavior & are better able to keep appointments

Support engagement in health care

PSH service providers can coordinate with health care providers & assist tenants to understand the treatment plan
