

Leveraging Resources through Collaboration: Using Current Assets to Build Bridges

Sabine Eustache, DrPH, SEJ Associates, Inc.

Andrea Brooks, JBM Solutions, Inc.

May 29, 2014

INTRODUCTIONS

- Name
- Organization
- Role
- Expectations from Workshop

OBJECTIVES

- Understand the purpose and benefits of collaboration
- Articulate barriers to and challenges associated with collaboration
- Discuss planning tools and resources that can be used to identify and facilitate collaborative relationships

WHAT IS COLLABORATION?

- ...a formal interorganizational relationship involving shared authority and responsibility for planning, implementation, and evaluation of a joint effort (Hord, 1986)
- Activities carried out by two or more entities to increase value (Bardach, 1998)
- ...a process that occurs when a group of autonomous stakeholders of a problem domain engage in an interactive process, using shared rules, norms, and structures, to act or decide on issues related to that domain.' (Wood & Gray, 1991)

WHAT IS COLLABORATION?

- ... a mutually-beneficial and well-defined relationship entered into by two or more organizations to achieve common goals (Mattessich, Murray-Close, Monsey, 2001)
- Collaboration brings autonomous organizations together to fulfill a common mission that requires comprehensive planning and communication on many levels (Mattessich, Murray-Close & Monsey, 2001)
- ...each member contributes its own resources and reputation (Mattessich, Murray-Close & Monsey, 2001)

WHAT IS COLLABORATION?

Vertical Relationships

- Partnerships between “complimentary agencies”
- Working across different sectors or levels of care
- Example: homeless shelter collaborating with safety net healthcare providers

WHAT IS COLLABORATION?

Horizontal Relationships

- Partnerships between “similar agencies”
- Service providers or organizations within the same sector working together
- Example: health center collaborating with a hospital

WHY COLLABORATE?

- Most organizations can't “do it all”
- Improve your capacity by working with others that complement your mission
- Synergy—the whole is greater than the sum of its parts
- Increases ability to influence decision makers
- Builds good will—support when you need it
- Increased access for clients
- Trend toward centralized systems: Partner or Perish? (Too big to fail versus too small to survive)

Why nonprofits are collaborating

-  To advance a shared goal
-  To respond to a community need
-  Collaboration was funder initiated/mandated
-  As a result of competition for funding, donors, or clientele
-  To respond to a funding opportunity

Respondents could choose more than one answer.

BEST PRACTICES FOR NONPROFITS

Nonprofit Strategic Restructuring

Collaboration best practices from two sides of the social sector

For funders from funders

- > Walk the talk: model partnership and collaboration.
- > Be more intentional about sharing resources.
- > Find activities that require more people to come to the table.

- > Provide ongoing support, not just start-up funds.
- > Recognize that developing strategies, plans, structures, and relationships takes time.
- > Recognize that building trust is part of the process.
- > Let the collaborating partners guide the work.

from nonprofits For funders

For nonprofits from nonprofits

- > Explore all support funders can offer, not just grants.
- > Don't be afraid to ask for help.
- > Be transparent about challenges, costs involved, and expertise required.

- > Establish an end-to-end process with clear expectations.
- > Understand that it's impossible to get everyone's buy-in; at some point you've got to move forward.
- > If you've gone through strategic restructuring, share your experiences with other nonprofits.

from funders For nonprofits

From Nonprofits

- Establish a clear purpose with desired outcomes.
- Translate goals into language all partners can use
- Don't be afraid to ask for help.
- Be transparent about challenges, costs involved and expertise required.

From Funders

- Establish an end goal with clear expectations
- Develop a communications plan
- Understand that it's impossible to get everyone's buy-in: at some point you've got to move forward.
- If you've gone through strategic restructuring, share your experiences with other nonprofits

from funders For nonprofits

From Funders

- Walk the talk: model partnerships and collaboration
- Be more intentional about sharing resources
- Find activities that require more people to come to the table
- Be willing to provide unrestricted funds
- Help grantees find additional funding

From Nonprofits

- Recognize that developing strategies, plans, structures and relationships take time
- Recognize that building trust is part of the process
- Let the collaborating partners guide the work
- Open up funder networks and serve as connectors
- Provide ongoing support, not just startup funds

Reflections

Examples of collaborations that have been key to you're agency's success

Examples of unsuccessful collaborations
or collaboration attempts

EFFECTIVE COLLABORATION

Pre-Planning

- Identify the need or opportunity
- Identify possible partners who complement or support you
- Understanding your core competencies
- Recognize potential costs and benefits
- Recognize possible trade-offs involved
- Involve your key stakeholders

Joint Planning

- Acknowledge working together is a process that involves significant planning and ongoing nurturing
- Acknowledge time to build the relationship, learn how to work together
- Clarify mission and goals
- Recognize required investments
- Develop a detailed implementation plan
- Delineate a clear communication plan

EFFECTIVE COLLABORATION

Make it Win/Win....and Win

- Delineate roles and build accountability based on strengths
  - What are the roles and tasks; who will do what?
  - How will resources be distributed equitably and appropriately?
  - How will you measure success? What are expected outcomes?
  - What is the timeframe to implement tasks?
- Clarify who is in charge in what areas
  - Is there an explicit or implicit structure with status differences?
- Share credit
  - Recognize the contribution others make

BENEFITS OF COLLABORATION

- Shared resources
- Avoid service duplication
- Increased access to funding streams not previously available
- Synergy
- Access to new clients
- Increased community organization awareness about agency and programs
- Increased access for clients
- Not reinventing the wheel

BARRIERS TO COLLABORATION

- Different missions and philosophies
- Different priorities
- Difficult to give up some level of autonomy
- “Turf “ Issues
  - Who owns the solution?
  - Who gets the credit?
- Risk of getting your pocket picked
  - How much can you share with “them”?

BARRIERS TO COLLABORATION

- Funding
- Perceived or historical “competition”
- Possibility of mission drift – may seem as if you are taking on the mission of the partner more than your own.
- Shared vision may not always be there – some partners are focusing purely on what they can gain.

ONGOING CHALLENGES

- Reporting (Data tracking and documentation)
- Communication
- Maintaining the momentum going
- Time crunches: Finding time to integrate collaborative requirements/commitments into organizational practices
- Partners perceptions of the partnership may be different amongst partners
- Institutionalizing partnerships (Policy, staff)
- Sustainability

FACILITATING COLLABORATIONS

- Identifying and involving stakeholders
(Define stakeholders – activity)
- Identify goals of collaborative partnership/effort
- Develop the plan
- Identify resources – knowing what resources
you have
- Leverage resources – knowing how you will potentially use those resources for this project
- Delineate roles of partners

Asset Mapping: Identifying Potential Collaborative Resources

IDENTIFYING COMMUNITY ASSETS

- What is a community asset?
  - A quality, person, or thing that is an advantage, a resource, or an item of value to an organization or community.

- Often broken into three levels:

Level 1

- Gifts, skills, and capacities of the individuals living in the community

Level 2

- Citizens' organizations and/or networks through which local people pursue common goals

Level 3

- Institutions present in the community (local government, hospitals, education, and human service agencies)

ASSET MAPPING

Method to Identify Community Assets

- Asset mapping: an inventory of the businesses, organizations, and institutions that help create a community
- Process to identify local resources that have the potential to provide programs, services, funds, or in-kind gifts to a center.
  - Take stock of the strengths of your community, not just its needs
  - Strategically locate the social, material, and financial assets in a community
  - Discover a local network of resources to target when seeking a broader base of support and partnership.

LESSONS LEARNED

- Collaboration is a way leverage resources and help enhance patient access to care
- Asset Mapping is one of many methods to identify potential new (or expanded) collaborative partnerships

NEXT STEPS

- Use these resources as you think about future program development process
- Remember that great collaborative relationships can come in non-traditional packages
